Susanne Kaufmann Bespoke Rejuvenating Facial

Susanne Kaufmann, founder of the cosmetics line and the Susanne Kaufmann Spa in the Hotel Post in Bezaú, Austria, is a pioneer in the field of natural cosmetics and innovative treatment concepts. The origin of the internationally successful brand lies in the spa. All products are developed and tested here. It is Susanne's clear determination to use only the best active ingredients in her products as well as to significantly improve the skin with tailor-made, innovative treatments.

The Bespoke Rejuvenating Facial combines 15 years of beauty and spa experience. The treatment counteracts the signs of aging, reduces the effects of harmful environmental influences and relaxes the facial muscles. Fascia techniques, lymphatic drainage and deep tissue massage relieve tension, stimulate skin metabolism and transform the skin structure.

The three ampoules of the Pollution Skin Defense System by Susanne Kaufmann™ are incorporated during the treatment with various massage techniques. The vitamin C ampoule increases the ability of the skin to fight against free radicals and at the same time detoxifies the cells. Ectoin, one of our key ingredients in the anti-aging skin care range, stimulates cell regeneration and strengthens cell protection. This leaves the skin prepped for the powerful Q10 serum, incorporated to stimulate collagen production. The result is a strengthened, toned skin texture and a relaxed youthful look.

The treatment includes a 12-day follow-up treatment with the three active ingredient complexes Vitamin C, Ectoin and Q10. (The customer buys a box of 15 ampoules, of which three are used for the treatment and the remainder are intended for at-home use after the treatment).

The 90-minute treatment is offered exclusively at the Susanne Kaufmann SPA in Bezaú and at the newly opened Susanne Kaufmann Spa at the New York Dermatology Group in New York City.
